VOL. XC. CENTRE HALL, PA., THURSDAY, JUNE 14, 1917. NO. 24

INTERESTING LETTER FROM FORT NIAGARA.

Intensity of Training is Shown from Fact That Officers-to-be Are Required to Complete in Three Months, Work on Which Four Years is Spent at West Point.

[By NED W. KELLER, to His Mother.]

Officer's Reserve Training corps.
2nd Company Infantry.
Fort Niagara, N. Y.
June 2, 1917.

Dearest Mother :—

After three weeks of intensive training I can report to you that I am feeling well and happy and were you to see me now you would be surprised for I am tanned as can be and last night I tipped the scales at 170 pounds. With the substantial army mess and the "eats" that my friends back home have sent me I am faring very well and have no complaint coming.

This proved to be a very strenuous week and aside from the half holiday on Wednesday we were on the go from Monday morning at five o'clock till noon today. I know very well that every fellow in Company 2 was very glad for a half day rest on Wednesday and also when all drill was called off at noon today.

While I am sitting on the edge of my bunk and writing to you possibly half of the boys are resting here in the quarters, for we sure had a strenuous morning workout. We were up at five o'clock and ready for Reville at 5.45. In the meantime we had time to dress, make up our cots and police the quarters. At eight o'clock we started out for a hike with full packs and also our guns. This was something new for us, for up to this time we only marched with guns and side arms and I can say that I have enjoyed the practice marches immensely. As I said before we were all looking forward to this trip for according to the reports of those who had been at the border we could then judge ourselves as to whether we had any staying qualities or not. We started to pack up at 6.30 and I dare say no easy task to arrange everything in full marching order. The pack and haversack containing mess kit, two cans of hardtack, bacon can, canteen, one blanket, poncho (gum blanket) shelter half (known as pup tent), towel, soap, tooth brush, one pair of socks, trench tools, cartridge belt, first aid kit, gun and bayonet, all this weighs about 30 pounds and everything has its place on our person so as not to interfere with our walking. We left the barracks shortly after eight o'clock and immediately started in on quick time, which means a full thirty-inch step and about 120 to the minute. After marching about 3½ miles we were given a ten-minute halt and it was a tired lot of boys who lay down immediately from where we fell out of line. This refreshed us very much and even though it was more laborious than it would seem yet we marched back to the quarters feeling none the worse for the ordeal. In reality these practice marches are part of our recreation periods, for indeed everyone seems anxious when the time comes for them. We march along with our guns thrown over our shoulders, sometimes at quick time and again at double time which means running and it sure is inspiring to hear the whole Company singing the army song. Many of the companies have adopted their own and I think Co. 2 has the best of them all. The first verse may interest you for it is set to the tune of "The Old Gray Mare".

"Uncle Sammy, he needs the infantry.
He needs the cavalry,
He needs the artillery,
And then, by gosh, we'll go to Germany.
Then poor old Kaiser Bill,
Poor old Kaiser Bill,
Poor old Kaiser Bill." (Repeat.)

When we came back we had inspection of arms and also of quarters. This means that we must stand at attention for an hour and this time everything has to be in apple-pie order. Our guns are inspected and every particle of dust must be removed. Our personal appearance must be of the first order and especially do we have to keep our shoes shined. This is a big part in our discipline for we may have them clean and during the next drill we may encounter a mud hole, and according to military rule there is "no getting around it." That occurs a dozen times a day, so you see, mother, why I am always writing for shoe polish. At present I am out so the order will stand good for this week. Thanks for being so prompt with the other things I needed.

I cannot begin to tell you all that happens here every day for we are busy from 5 a. m. till 9.45 p. m. You might get a better idea of how busy we are when I tell you that they are trying to give us in three months what they cover at West Point in four years, with the exception of higher mathamatics. In a few words let me say that it requires constant application to our work from morning till night and you may be sure every one is here with the desire in his breast to get out of it all that he possibly can, for we realize that as we stand and witness the solemn ceremonies here every day just what the great call to democracy is and what it was that brought us here.

I believe there was some talk before I left home, that the young men were only enlisting here for the financial gain they would get out of it, but let me tell you that is all tommy rot, for very seldom do you ever hear any one mention the fact here in camp. After we arrived in camp it took a very short time to realize the service that we are called upon to perform and I feel sure that every one here was "conscript of conscience" rather than a "conscript of draft."

In closing let me picture to you the treat I had at noon today. One of the men who bunks along side of me was remembered by his friends at home by receiving a box of eats, on his birthday. Five of us who became very chummy were invited to partake of the contents with him and instead of turning out for mess call we enjoyed a "real meal" of chicken, jam, olives, pickles, sandwiches, potato chips, and home made fudge, and cake for dessert. I can't begin to tell you how much we did enjoy it for anything from home sure does taste good. In acknowledgement of the thoughtfulness on the part of the recipient's friends we wrote a letter conveying our thanks.

If you see fit to show this to my friends you may do so, since I hardly have time to write and you can also rest assured that I am thinking of you often.

Hoping that you may enjoy good health till I see you again, I remain,

Your boy,
NED.

Going After the "Slackers."

A telegram received by Sheriff G. H. Yarnell, of Centre county, from Governor Brumbaugh, on Monday, with regard to the treatment of non-registrants, caused Sheriff Yarnell to send the following notice to police and constables of Centre county :

As ample notice and every opportunity has now been given, and there is no longer any argument upon which non-registrants can be condoned, the period of leniency now has passed ; therefore it is requested that every effort be now made to detect and arrest persons subject to registration who have not registered, and to bring each case promptly to the attention of the nearest representative of the department of justice. It is the duty of all registrants to assist in bringing this matter to the attention of constables and police. The secretary of war construes section 5 of the selective service law as requiring compulsory registration by the officer making the arrest, of each arrested person immediately upon his conviction.

DEATHS.

Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Bottorf, wife of David Bottorf, of Reedsville, died at the home of her son, Homer Treaster, near Coburn, on Monday morning, of paralysis. She had been visiting at the home of her son for the past three weeks and became ill a week ago. She was aged forty-seven years. The body was taken to Milroy where burial was made Wednesday afternoon. The husband, three sons and five daughters survive.

Mrs. William Shaffer died suddenly at her home near Zion on Thursday afternoon. She complained of pains in the breast and laid down on the couch after dinner. A daughter, who had gone away for the day, returned in the evening to find her mother dead. Mrs. Shaffer was aged about seventy-six years, and is survived by her husband and eight children. Burial was made at Zion on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs John Weaver, of near Colyer, are mourning the death of their infant son, Frederick Calvin, aged three months. Death occurred on Sunday afternoon. Burial was made in Zion Hill cemetery on Wednesday morning.

Mrs. Emily Knuppenburg, aged eighty years, mother of Mrs. J. W. Bowman, of Spring Mills, died on June 3rd at her home in Slateburg.

W. D. Crosby, a Philipsburg attorney, died at his home in that place on Wednesday.

Murder Trial for Centre County.

The death of a Mr. Young in the Bellefonte hospital Tuesday night will necessitate a murder trial in Centre county at the next term of court. Young died as a result of a stabbing at the hands of Thomas Menchio, a foreigner, at Philipsburg, a month ago.

Marriage Licenses.

George M. Mock, Philipsburg
Josephine H. Meyers, Philipsburg

John Colson, Munson
Allie Yonock, Munson

Ambrose E. Lyons, State College
Myrtle V. Miller, State College

LOCALS

Miss Pearl Kurtz, a student in Syracuse University, is home for the summer vacation.

The United Evangelical Sunday-school at Linden Hall will hold their Children's Day service on Sunday evening.

Mrs. J. W. Wagner and daughter, of Charleston, South Carolina, are guests of the former's aunt, Mrs. T. L. Smith, in this place.

Messrs. H. C. Rothrock, of Port Matilda, and L. C. Reisner, of Millersville, were in town Tuesday evening interviewing the public school teachers in regard to a form of teachers' insurance.

A considerable amount of news matter was crowded out of this issue because of the space devoted to the names of Centre county's young men who showed their patriotism on registration day. We believe the list to be of great importance, gaining in value with the passing years.

3175 REGISTERED IN CENTRE COUNTY

Big List of County's Young Manhood Exceeded Expectations.--Complete Register.

Below we give the name of every male resident in Centre county, between the ages of 21 and 31 who answered his country's call and registered on June 5th.

BRITISH GREET GEN. PERSHING

Americans and British Officers Size Each Other Up.

READY FOR WAR BUSINESS

Officers Anxious To Get To France. American Destroyers Escort Steamer Into British Port.

London. — A British trans-Atlantic steamer came slowly into her mooring in a British port the other morning with the most interesting complement of passengers she ever had carried during her years of plying between American and English ports.

The passengers consisted of the staff of the first division of the American army that will co-operate with the British and French armies on French soil in the world war—Gen. John J. Pershing and his personal staff and the officers of the general staff, numbering nearly 60.

Met By U. S. Warships.

There also were on board about 70 private soldiers, a clerical force of the same number, a score of British officers from Canada and a large party of adventurous civilians, including several women.

The ship arrived in an English harbor, having crossed without encountering any mishap or sighting a hostile craft.

Welcome Ceremonious.

The coming of the American soldiers had been kept secret outside the official circles and there was no crowd gathered at the pier, as would have been the case had the townspeople been aware of the event.

A company of the Royal Welsh Fusilliers, in newest khaki trim and polished to the last button, was drawn up in double line facing the steamer's side, with the regimental band ahead. A few paces to the front, in proud state and held in leash by a rigid private, was a mammoth white goat, the most famous regimental mascot of the British Army. A group of 40 British and American newspaper men and a few other persons who had come to meet passengers completed the assemblage.

All the steamer's docks were filled with khaki. The waving of handkerchiefs was the only demonstration from the steamer or the pier until the gangplank had been run up. When communication had been established with the shore, Lieut.-Gen. Pitcairn Campbell, Admiral Stileman and other officials proceeded aboard the vessel and went through the formal introductions.

American Anthem Played.

Then the British general escorted General Pershing and his personal staff to the dock. The band played "The Star-Spangled Banner" and all the military men in sight stood at attention, while civilians uncovered. General Pershing inspected the guard of honor, and, walking along both lines of soldiers, talked to several of the privates who displayed gilt stripes on their sleeves, signifying wounds received in action.

Then the band played the British anthem, the English soldiers marched smartly away, and the Americans returned to the ship.

On To London.

A special train carried contingents of the American forces to London.

The arrival of the Americans in London also was a quiet one, the knowledge of the coming of the representatives of the newest ally being unknown to the public. There were no military formalities at the station, where the party was welcomed by the Earl of Derby, Minister of War; Viscount French, commander of the British home forces, and the American officials.

The American residents of London and various British organizations have prepared an extensive program of entertainment for the American party, but it is doubtful if much of it will be carried out, as General Pershing, before being informed of the plans, expressed a desire that there be a minimum of anything in the nature of a social character.

General Pershing announced that he and his fellow-officers were anxious to get into harness at their base in France as quickly as possible.

LIBERTY LOAN SUBSCRIPTIONS.

Secretary McAdoo Calls For Redoubled Efforts.

New Orleans.—Suscriptions to the Liberty Loan to date aggregate $1,300,000,000 or $700,000,000 less than the total amount desired, according to a statement issued here by Secretary McAdoo.

The Secretary urged that redoubled efforts be made to raise the desired $700,000,000 and over subscribe the loan during the next seven days.

Secretary McAdoo's formal statement follows:

"The total amount of subscriptions to the Liberty Loan reported up to date to the Treasury Department aggregates $1,300,000,000, which is less by $700,000,000 than the total amount desired. There are seven days within which to raise the $700,000,000 and to over-subscribe the loan.

THE SLACKERS' TOTAL IS SMALL

But Exemptions Are About Half of Registration.

SOME STATES FINISH COUNT

The Secretary Enthusiastic Over the Work Of Provost Marshal Crowder and State and Municipal Officials.

Washington. — Seven States have made complete reports on Tuesday's war registration, showing 816,407 men registered, compared with the census estimate of their aggregate quota of 848,917.

Governors of states in which the compilation of registration figures were completed, reported as follows:

Wisconsin — Registration, 211,401, divided as follows: White, 210,897; colored, 564; alien, 5,588; alien enemies, 28,709; indicated possible exemptions, 115,189; state's estimated eligibles, 229,897.

Rhode Island—Registration, 43,478, divided as follows: White, 37,442; colored, 867; alien, 15,043; alien enemies, 126; indicated possible exemptions, 22,149; state's estimated eligibles, 60,079.

Arkansas — Total registration, 147,522, divided as follows: White, 102,383; colored, 44,476; alien, 566; alien enemies, 98; indicated possible exemptions, 99,196; state's estimated eligibles, 158,573.

South Carolina—Total registration, 128,039; divided as follows: White, 60,629; colored, 66,905; alien, 447; alien enemies, 58; indicated possible exemptions, 85,381; state's estimated eligibles, 137,861.

Connecticut — Registration, 159,761, divided as follows: White, 97,126; colored, 2,990; alien, 58,519; alien enemies, 1,126; indicated possible exemptions, 61,590; state's estimated eligibles, 158,287.

Exemptions 50 Per Cent.

Slow registration returns prevent anything approaching a conclusive estimate as to the number of men actually enrolled. An official statement, however, said such complete returns as were at hand indicated that the 10,200,000 estimate of the census bureau for total number of men within the prescribed ages would not be equalled.

A feature of the few complete returns is the high percentage of indicated exemptions, averaging approximately 50 per cent. of the total registration. Officials pointed out, however, that this did not mean actual exemptions, as the indicated figures include all married men and those in executive, judicial or legislative office. Until exemption regulations have been promulgated, it will be impossible to say how many of these will be included in those to be marked off the military rolls.

The one conclusive result of the registration that cannot be altered in the slightest degree by any possible variation from the estimates is that millions of young Americans have put in their names, claiming no exemption and stating no reason for release from war service.

General Crowder's Statement.

Provost General Crowder issued this statement:

"Some published press reports are to the effect and figures received in the office of the Provost Marshal General indicate millions of claims for exemption. These reports consist of conclusions erroneously drawn and very unjust to the young men of the country. As a matter of fact no claims whatever have been called for or received.

Registration cards contain some questions that were asked solely for statistical reasons. The answers to these questions are tabulated in such a way as to show how many registered men are executive, judicial or legislative officers of the state or nation, how many have wives or other relatives dependent upon them for support, how many are totally disabled and how many belong to religious sects opposed to war in any form, or are ordained ministers, or are engaged in certain industries. Absolutely no statistics of this kind were extant before the registration, and such statistics were necessary in drafting regulations. Within these statistics are included the cards of a great proportion who expressly stated that they intended to claim no exemptions, and of a vast number of others who made no statements whatever concerning exemptions. Indeed, there is no index of the number of exemptions that will be claimed in the office of the Provost Marshal General. Every effort should be made to eradicate the impression that has been given by the press reports mentioned above.

RECLAIMED LAND PROFITABLE.

Crops Worth $33,000,000 Raised On Property Taken Over In 1916.

Washington.—Government reclamation projects, covering 1,426,000 acres of irrigable land, in 1916 furnished water to 925,000 acres, from which $33,000,000 worth of crops were harvested, Secretary Lane announced. The value of crops from similar land in 1915 was only $18,000,000.

GREATEST WAR MINES EXPLODED

British Strike Big Blows at Germans on Belgian Front.

OLD YPRES IS NOW AVENGED

Key Position To All the Northern Sector Of the Western Front, and Even More Important Than Vimy Ridge.

With the British Armies in France.—In one of the most elaborately planned and daringly executed maneuvers of the war, Sir Douglas Haig's forces have dealt a mighty blow against the German line in Belgium and been rewarded with notable gains in terrain and the capture of more than 5,000 prisoners and numerous guns of various caliber. In addition, they inflicted heavy casualties on the Germans.

Over a front of more than nine miles, extending from the region of Ypres southward nearly to Armentieres, the British started their drive, and everywhere advanced their line, capturing villages and numerous points of vantage, among the latter the Messines-Wystchaete Ridge, which commands the surrounding plains for miles, and which for two and a half years has been a troublesome salient.

The villages of Messines and Wytechaete fell into the hands of the British during the attack and the British even pressed on eastward from Wytschaete and occupied the village of Osttaverne, and trenches east of the village on a front of more than five miles.

Probably never in history was an attack launched with greater preparation. For days the Wytschaete salient had been the objective of the British guns which had hurled tons of steel upon it. When the time for the attack came the British loosed mines containing 1,000,000 pounds of high explosives in front of the German positions, the detonations being heard 130 miles away in England.

With consternation reigning among the Germans and under a curtain of fire, English, Irish, New Zealand and Australian infantrymen, with "tanks" to aid them started across the open. The Germans offered only slight resistance and everywhere were beaten off.

Great preparations are being made in France for the arrival of American troops. Already an American transport containing food for them has arrived in a French port and American warships are anchored off the French Coast. Camps have been prepared for all branches of the American forces who are expected.

U. S. TO USE GERMAN FUNDS.

Millions Held Here By War May Be Put Into Liberty Bonds.

Washington.—Millions of dollars in dividends and debts due to Germans from American citizens may be invested in Liberty Loan Bonds, under the Trading With the Enemy Act now pending in Congress. Germany thus will help America pay for the war. A custodian of enemy property to be named with passage of the act would, under this plan, take over all enemy alien property, investing funds and putting real property into the hands of trust companies for operation.

JOFFRE AS GODFATHER.

French Marshal's Relation To American Army In France.

Paris.—A semi-official note says that Marshal Joffre, while in America, had a conference with American military chiefs at which a plan of organization for the new American army was elaborated in agreement with the British leaders. The note says: "It will surprise none that the marshal took a preponderating part in the plan, literally everything which he advised being adopted. His collaborators styled him themselves the 'Godfather of the American Army.'"

U. S. ARMED LINER SENDS DOWN U-BOAT

60 Shots Fired in Hour and Half Running Battle.

SIGHTED AT 7,000 YARDS

25th Shot Fired By American Naval Gunners Pierces U-Boat, Which Rears Out Of Water, Stern Up, and Then Sinks.

Washington.—A German submarine is believed to have been sunk by an armed American steamer in a running fight lasting an hour and a half, in which 35 shots were fired by the submarine and 25 by the steamer. An official announcement by the State Department says the steamer's final shot "apparently struck the submarine, which raised clear out of the water and stood stern up for a few seconds. She then disappeared."

The department's announcement follows:

"The Department of State is advised by telegraph of an engagement between an armed American steamer and a submarine. The guns of the steamer were manned by an American naval crew. The submarine was first seen at about 7,000 yards. She had a 6-inch gun forward and another aft. She flew no flag.

"Upon sight of the submarine the steamer hoisted the American flag and waited for about 10 minutes. As the submarine approached the steamer fired. The submarine responded. The steamer kept a speed that would permit the submarine to come within range. Then followed a fight lasting for an hour and a half. The submarine came to a distance of about 2,300 yards. By that time the submarine had fired 35 shots and the steamer 25. The last shot of the steamer apparently struck the submarine, which raised clear out of the water and stood stern end up for a few seconds. Then she disappeared. The captain of the steamer and the commander of the guard believe that the submarine was sunk. The steamer suffered no damage."

Paris, — The defeat of a German submarine in a battle with the French steamer Orenoque is reported by the Ministry of Marine. The Orenoque, a vessel of 2,372 tons, was attacked in the Atlantic on April 22, while on her way to a West African port.

The submarine was sighted, half submerged and headed for the steamer, while a heavy sea was running. The steamer captain immediately beat to quarters and opened fire. After the fourth shot the submarine disappeared.

MANY KILLED BY TORNADO.

The Property Damage Millions In Kansas and Missouri.

Kansas City, Mo.—Tornadoes spread death and destruction through rural districts of Missouri and Kansas. Reports showed 15 were killed in Missouri and nine in Kansas. The number of injured has reached approximately 150 and estimates of the property damage place it anywhere from $1,000,000 to $2,000,000.

NEW $10 COUNTERFEIT OUT.

Imitation Of Gold Certificate Of 1907 Series Is Deceptive.

Washington.—Discovery of a new counterfeit $10 gold certificate of the 1907 series was announced by the Secret Service. It is not as finely executed as the genuine note, but is likely to prove very deceptive, it was stated.

ACCUSED OF INCITING BLACKS.

Negro Arrested In West Virginia For Planning Uprising.

Wolfe, W. Va.—United States Commissioner H. M. Tanner placed in jail a negro named Robert Conner, who, the authorities allege, has been trying to foment a general negro uprising in this vicinity.

LEAK IN MAIL TO GERMANY FOUND

Three Important Arrests Made in New York.

SUBJECT TO DEATH PENALTY

Three Men, Two Of Them Native Americans, Held In Heavy Bail On the Charge Of Conspiring To Send Mail.

New York.—Evidence that two complete high-powered wireless installations, assembled here from various sources, were shipped piecemeal to Mexico, supposedly for use of a German spy system in this country, was unearthed in connection with the arrest of three men on charges of conspiring to send mail containing military information surreptitiously from the United States to Germany, through members of Norwegian ship crews.

It was intimated by the United States commissioner before whom the alleged plotters were arraigned that it was through their instrumentality that advance news of the impending arrival in England of the American destroyer fleet was sent to Germany before it even became generally known in this country that it had sailed.

With only a scratching of the surface of the mass of evidence in the government's hands, indications have been found that the mail system was operated both ways between the United States, Germany and Mexico. Several hundred letters have been seized, written in English, German and Spanish, and some apparently in code. They are being translated in the expectation that they will open the way to full revelations of the alleged spy plot which is said to point to other persons besides those under arrest.

The prisoners are Harry F. Perissi and Irving Bonaparte, both said to be American born, employed by a German electrical company here, and Axel E. Melchar, said to be a naturalized citizen from Sweden. They are charged with conspiring to induce members of the crews of the steamships Bergensfjord and Kristiansfjord, both chartered to carry regular United States mails, to take letters and packages from this country destined for Germany in violation of the law prohibiting competition with the United States mail.

The maximum penalties provided by the statutes under which the charges are brought are $10,000 fine and two years' imprisonment for conspiracy, and $50 fine and six months' imprisonment for competing with the mails, but it was said by the government authorities that the investigation would continue with a view of determining whether treason had been committed.

LANE MAKES PLEA FOR LOAN.

Recalls That Virginia Governor Gave Whole Fortune To Revolution.

Washington. — Secretary of Interior Franklin K. Lane made a unique appeal for subscriptions to the Liberty Loan when he cited the historic fact that Gov. Thomas Nelson, of Virginia, second richest man in the Southern colonies, gave his whole fortune to help finance the Revolutionary War. The Secretary's statement to the country reads:

"At Yorktown, Va., there is a shrine to which repair the liberty lovers of the land. It is a simple stone marking the grave of Gov. Thomas Nelson, who entered the War for Independence as a rich man (with the exception of General Washington the richest man in the South) and died a poor man, having given his fortune for the support of the Colonial troops. The stone bears these words:

"'He Gave All For Liberty.'

"Such men brought liberty to us and we now can repay them by lending our savings for the maintenance of liberty that 'government of the people, for the people and by the people shall not perish from the earth.'"

PROVIDES FOR SALVATIONISTS.

French Government Sets Aside Buildings For Work.

New York.—Headquarters of the Salvation Army here was advised by cable from London that the French government had set aside for Salvation Army uses a number of large buildings at a port where the American troops probably will land. It also was announced that Great Britain has designated quarters on Trafalgar Square to be equipped by the Salvation Army as club and reading rooms for the American soldiers.

23 VESSELS WEEK'S TOLL.

Submarines Sank 15 Ships Of 1,600 Tons Or Over.

London.—The weekly report of the British Admiralty concerning British shipping losses by mines or submarines says that 15 vessels of 1,600 tons and over and 3 vessels under 1,600 tons and 5 fishing vessels were sunk last week. The above report compared with that of the previous week shows a decrease of three in vessels of 1,600 tons and over sunk, but an increase of two in the category of less than 1,600 tons.

KIDNEY REMEDY HIGHLY RECOMMENDED

There is no medicine which we handle that gives such good results as your Swamp-Root. Many of our customers have informed us at different times that they have derived great benefit from its use.

There was one case in particular which attracted a great deal of attention in this neighborhood early last Spring, as the gentleman's life was despaired of and two doctors treating him for liver and kidney trouble were unable to give him any relief. Finally a specialist from St. Louis was called in but failed to do him any good. I at last induced him to try your Swamp-Root and after taking it for three months, he was attending to his business as usual and is now entirely well. This case has been the means of creating an increased demand for your Swamp-Root with us.

Very truly yours,
L. A. RICHARDSON, Druggist.
May 27, 1916. Marine, Illinois.

Prove What Swamp-Root Will Do For You

Send ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample size bottle. It will convince anyone. You will also receive a booklet of valuable information, telling about the kidneys and bladder. When writing, be sure and mention this paper. Regular fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles for sale at all drug stores.—Adv.

Diplomatic.

Blunder—I say, who is that fat, homely, coarse-featured woman sitting over there?

Daggett—That, sir, is my wife!

Blunder—So it is; so it is. Stupid of me. Thought for a moment it was mine.

FRECKLES

Now Is the Time to Get Rid of These Ugly Spots.

There's no longer the slightest need of feeling ashamed of your freckles, as the prescription othine — double strength — is guaranteed to remove these homely spots.

Simply get an ounce of othine—double strength—from your druggist, and apply a little of it night and morning and you should soon see that even the worst freckles have begun to disappear, while the lighter ones have vanished entirely. It is seldom that more than one ounce is needed to completely clear the skin and gain a beautiful clear complexion.

Be sure to ask for the double strength othine, as this is sold under guarantee of money back if it fails to remove freckles.—Adv.

A White U-Boat.

Slang is keeping right up with the news.

I was in one of those arm-chair lunchrooms when a messenger boy hurried in.

"'Gimme a white U-boat, quick," he demanded.

Without hesitation the clerk pushed a vanilla eclair across the counter.

The U-boat was "sunk" in three quick munches.—Boston Post.

HEAL ITCHING SKINS

With Cuticura Soap and Ointment—They Heal When Others Fail.

Nothing better, quicker, safer, sweeter for skin troubles of young and old that itch, burn, crust, scale, torture or disfigure. Once used always used because these super-creamy emollients tend to prevent little skin troubles becoming serious, if used daily.

War and Theology.

Even in the theological seminaries they are cutting courses to meet the conditions imposed by the war.

Rev. Ward G. Meehan, a young priest of the Brooklyn diocese, was one of the first to offer his services as an army chaplain at the declaration of war and has been accepted.

He is taking a post-graduate course in theology at the Catholic university in Washington, where he is awaiting his call to active service.

If called before the completion of his course, he will be given his full credit marks, just as they have been given to the students in the secular colleges when they have sacrificed the closing days of their college year to their sense of obligation to national duty.

"Charles Henry Hawkins, you have been playing ball again with your best clothes on; or else you've been in a fight. How often should it be necessary for me to mention these things? You are getting to be incorrigible. I sometimes believe we will have to send you to a boys' reform school."

"Why, father," moaned poor Charles Henry, eyes growing wider and wider at his father's flagrant injustice, "and me only been a shoppin' with mother."

FOUR WEEKS IN HOSPITAL

No Relief—Mrs. Brown Finally Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Cleveland, Ohio.—"For years I suffered so sometimes it seemed as though I could not stand it any longer. It was all in my lower organs. At times I could hardly walk, for if I stepped on a little stone I would almost faint. One day I did faint and my husband was sent for and the doctor came. I was taken to the hospital and stayed four weeks but when I came home I would faint just the same and had the same pains.

A friend who is a nurse asked me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I began taking it that very day for I was suffering a great deal. It has already done me more good than the hospital. To anyone who is suffering as I was my advice is to stop in the first drug-store and get a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound before you go home."—Mrs. W. C. HAUNTED RIFLE IN TRENCHES

German Gun, Captured in Abandoned Dugout, Brings Trouble to New Owner, the Latter Believes.

An officer in the European trenches writes:

I have heard many ill omens applied to certain towns or villages. There is one on the tower Albert, for instance; while certain dugouts are always unducky. It is a bad omen in some parts of the line to stumble over a grave.

During the late offensive a certain young officer found in a captured trench a German sniper's rifle with two small ivory disks let into the stock. He kept it in his dugout, intending to take it back to billets when they vacated the trench. One morning he brought it out in the trench to clean, and Fritz thereupon started strafing, so that he had to retire again to his dugout. Next day the same thing happened, and whenever he brought the rifle out of the dugout shells would begin to come over. Finally the thing got so on his nerves that he refused to let any one touch the rifle. It is probably still in the dugout, for it is certain that the legend was handed on to the next occupants.

VETOES BILL FOR FIREMEN'S RELIEF

Governor Brumbaugh Says Sproul Measure Doesn't Provide Extra Fund.

TAX IS A VITAL ITEM

Says Legislature Has Failed to Provide for Revenue to Take the Place of the Income It Is Proposed to Pay.

—Harrisburg

Governor Brumbaugh vetoed the Sproul Senate bill providing that the entire proceeds of the State tax on premiums of foreign fire insurance companies shall be paid to firemen's relief organizations in various municipalities. The Governor, in the course of a long message, says the Legislature has failed to provide for revenue to take the place of the income which it is proposed to pay to the municipalities for the firemen.

Under the present law half of the proceeds of the $400,000 tax goes to the organizations, the balance being paid to the State fire insurance fund. The Governor says the creation of the fire insurance fund was an important economic measure for the State government, and that the tax is a vital item in the creation of the fund, which it is expected will amount to $1,000,000 in a few years. "It would be the height of folly to compel the State to carry its insurance and at the same time remove from its treasury the fund dedicated to this service," says the Governor. "This bill is a direct attack upon the State insurance fund. Due notice of this fact was conveyed to the responsible representatives in the Assembly, and they were urged, in case they wished to dedicate all this income, to make other fiscal provision to carry out the law's mandate in the matter of the insurance of its own property from the fund. Such provision was not made."

The House bill to change the method of distribution of salaries of legislators for this session's closing was approved by the Governor. The effect of the bill will be to make $200 immediately available and $100 at the end of the session.

The Governor also approved the House bill to increase from $12,500 to $30,000 the amount of relief that may be paid in the Pittston poor district.

Money for State Highways.

The question that will be decided by the Legislature is whether or not, considering the scarcity of men and the high prices of materials, the State Highway Department appropriation bill, carrying $16,647,049.38, shall pass. Frank B. Black, State Highway Commissioner, asks that the bill, which was cut approximately $2,000,000 in committee, be passed in its present form. He says the money will be allowed to lie in the treasury if reasonable bids are not received for highway construction work. Recent bids, which were rejected, ran about $45,000 a mile, while a year ago concrete roads were being constructed at $16,000 to $17,000 a mile.

The items of the appropriation measure as it now stands are: Automobile license fees for construction, maintenance and repair, $6,000,000; construction and improvement of highways within borough limits, $7,000,000; Commonwealth's share of State-aid roads, $2,000,000; condemnation of toll roads, $500,000; dirt road deficiency, $1,142,043.38, and damages to property caused by construction of State roads $5000.

Commissioner Black, in pointing out that the license fees will amount to $3,000,000 a year, says virtually all of this amount will be used for maintenance, as there are 10,000 miles of State highways and the average cost per mile is $300 a year. Six millions of the $7,000,000 item, he says, will be used on construction work and $1,000,000 on borough highways connecting roads improved up to the borough limits.

A 20 per cent increase in bids he believes would be permissible under existing circumstances. He considers $20,000 a mile for concrete road fair, and says the department will build concrete roads for the present. The purchase of toll roads will be on a fifty-fifty basis, the counties affected and the State paying for them.

BUSINESS AS USUAL

Good Slogan, but Better One Is Easily Suggested.

Country Is in Splendid Position to Change It to "Bigger Business and Better Business," If All Will Pull Together.

Frank A. Vanderlip, president of the National City bank, sounds a warning against the fallacy of "business as usual," but says "bigger business and better business" is the proper slogan.

He issues a warning. The war will cause a certain readjustment of business in the country. Some lines of industry are developed by it tremendously, others are injured. The latter, of course, are the manufactories of luxuries and nonessentials. These doubtless will be hit severely, and those engaged in them should have the courage to face the new conditions.

Mr. Vanderlip suggests that hundreds of thousands of workers temporarily will be forced to change their employment. He says there should be no resistance to this process, no voluntary unemployment merely because the production of luxuries is curtailed. If a tailor's cutter, for example, is out of work in his own trade, he should not permit himself to remain idle when an excellent job in a munitions factory awaits him. The community should see that he does not remain idle.

The same process has been going on in every nation involved in the war. In the United States it should be less marked than in Europe. There is every prospect that the country is facing a great wave of so-called "war prosperity," provided the industrial readjustment is accomplished painlessly.

Whole Country Behind President.

Never was a peace-loving people so badgered, bullied, crowded and forced into war without provocation on our part or excuse on theirs as we have been by the Teutonic autocracy.

With all its calmness the president's address, which will stand as one of the great papers of history, stirred the country profoundly from center to circumference and placed him at its head as its ordained leader and guide. We have been longing for decision, courageous and outspoken, and for inspiring leadership, without which no cause can prevail, and he has given us both.

America can hold up her head in the world today, and every true American, whatever his politics or creed, stands proudly and confidently behind his president, who has made even the many who were lukewarm and reluctant feel that peace was no longer honorable or possible, and that we are to put forth all our force, not only to defend ourselves, but for the salvation of liberty and democracy the world over.

Industrial Expansion Predicted.

We are in the midst of great prosperity, and that prosperity should be encouraged and stimulated and not destroyed. The issue of an enormous war loan and the expenditure of the billions of dollars that it calls for among our own people for ammunition and supplies of leather, gunpowder, tents, blankets, food, ships and all the other requirements of an army and a navy must inevitably lead to a great expansion of our industries, to increased demands for the products of the farm and factory and the maintenance of profitable and possibly still higher prices, though the rise seems to have almost reached its apex.—"Jasper," in Leslie's.

Duty Laid Upon Congress.

Let congress realize one thing above all; the people have taken up a tremendous burden; they are summoned to a great sacrifice; they will be expected to concentrate in a mighty task. But how about congress? Congress, too, is on trial. Congress is called on for a sacrifice of its normal ways, its little perquisites and advantages. Congress is called upon to make itself more efficient than it is in normal times, to cease its party bickerings, sacrifice its log rolling and job hunting, and to deal with energy and single mindedness with the heavy duties war brings to government. The motto for congress now must be efficiency first.—Exchange.

Only One Possible End to War.

No one knows how long this war will last. It may be one year, it may be two or three years or even longer. No one knows what changes in the relative strength of the two sides may be brought about by unexpected events. No one can tell how much precious American blood may flow through the war-furrowed fields of France before the great issue is decided. But America can, America must, make it a point to know that, no matter when the war ends, it will end in just one way—in the victory of the democratic peoples.

Would Be Good Investment.

The open sore in Colombia left by Roosevelt's method of "taking Panama" is still festering, and the senate, in its wisdom, refuses to take the only antiseptic measures that can yield the slightest result. Apparently, there is no way of convincing these solons that just as a matter of keeping a clean record, the United States should make amends for the wrong done to a weaker power, and that as a safeguard against foreign intrigue in South America, compensation for the loss of Panama would be a good investment.

FOR THIRSTY GARDENS

Windmill Plays Important Part in Production of Food.

Lack of Timely Rainfall Is Often Doom of Otherwise Carefully Handled and Tended Patch—Conserve Water Pumped.

That the farm windmill should play an important part this year in the great food-production campaign, is the belief of H. B. Walker, drainage and irrigation engineer, Kansas State Agricultural college.

"The farm windmill should be no 'slacker' this year," said Professor Walker. "It should be ready day and night to absorb the energy of the wind to lift water for thirsty gardens. Lack of timely rainfall is often the doom of an otherwise carefully handled and tended vegetable garden.

"This year the farm garden will be an important factor in reducing the cost of living. Accordingly, every precaution should be taken to prevent a failure of the garden crops. In those areas where the natural rainfall is not dependable, some simple method of irrigation should be provided."

The farm windmill will serve faithfully and well in lifting water for irrigation if given an opportunity, Professor Walker pointed out. This faithful source of farm power, however, will not save the garden unless the owner co-operates in conserving the water pumped. The average windmill lifts water intermittently and at a slow rate. Consequently, if the water pumped is allowed to flow directly onto the warm, dry soil, a small area only can be satisfactorily covered. A small trickling flow does not spread laterally over the surface of the soil, but it percolates deeply into the soil beyond the reach of the shallow-rooted vegetables.

If the water lifted, on the other hand, is stored in tanks, barrels, or reservoirs, a volume sufficiently large can be secured in a surprisingly short time to effectively irrigate a much larger area. A barrel of water containing 31½ gallons will cover a garden bed six feet wide by eight feet long, one inch deep. A quantity of water even as small as this, if properly applied, will greatly help the lettuce bed or the shallow-rooted radishes. It is advisable, therefore, to use even an ordinary barrel for storage, if nothing larger is available, in preference to direct pumping.

A reservoir sufficiently large to hold all of the water the average windmill can pump in three or four days is much more desirable.

MISSOURI PLAN BEST

Carl Vrooman, assistant secretary of the United States department of agriculture, has commended the organization plan adopted by the Missouri College of Agriculture for war-crop production. Mr. Vrooman said recently, after he had visited a number of states, that the plan was the best that had come to his attention.

In Great Demand.

Movie actors whose physical make-up resembles some of the great characters in American history are in great demand because nearly all the moving picture companies are making patriotic films. Recently three men came out of the Metro office on Broadway, and their appearances were so impressive that all the squabs and busy actors not only gave them the once over, but stopped and looked at them. One of the men bore a striking resemblance to Abraham Lincoln. Another was almost the image of the Father of His County—at least he looked as George Washington might have looked if he hadn't looked the way he did. A third member of the little group was a "ringer" for Roosevelt. These "doubles" pull down a salary as big as the stars, it is said. The reason why they come so high is there are only a few of 'em who can enact Washington, Lincoln and Wilson.—New York Herald.

POLITICAL ANNOUNCEMENTS

JURY COMMISSIONER.

We are authorized to announce the name of A. C. Ripka, of Centre Hall borough, as a candidate for the nomination of Jury Commissioner on the Democratic ticket, at the Primaries, September 18, 1917.

LOCALS.

June, to date, has given us a goodly lot of rain.

Miss Lena Breon is visiting friends in Altoona for two weeks.

Mrs. Jonas Bible, of near Potters Mills, was a caller at this office last Thursday.

Community Picnic in Centre Hall, July 4th. Watch for more detailed announcement later.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Runkle on Sunday night. Mother and child are doing well.

Dr. G. W. Hosterman is spending a short time with his son, S. V. Hosterman, Esq., and family, at Lancaster.

Miss Gladys Meyer, of near Penn Hall, was elected by the Millheim school board to teach the intermediate grade in the borough.

L. R. Lingle, of State College, spent a few days last week on his farm at Earlystown, looking after the painting of the farm house.

Mrs. Ard Musser and charming little daughter, Betty, of Clearfield, spent a short time last week with the former's sister, Mrs. O. F. Funk, and friends, in this place.

J. S. Rowe, who has been working at Havre de Grace, Maryland, for some time on the erection of stone crushing plants, is spending a few days with his family in this place.

Miss Mabel F. Arney graduated from the school of Pharmacy, University of Pittsburgh, yesterday (Wednesday). Miss Arney is one of Centre Hall's talented young ladies.

D. Ross Bushman is pushing his new house to completion. Bath room and electric light have been installed and when finished the home will be one of the most cozy in town.

William Zettle, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Zettle, who has been confined to his bed for the past month on account of valvular heart trouble, shows improvement under the care of Dr. H. H. Longwell.

The borough school board, at a recent meeting, completed the election of teachers for the next term by re-electing Miss Helen Bartholomew for the primary school. The choice meets with general approbation.

The handsome new Lutheran church at Yeagertown was dedicated on Sunday with appropriate ceremonies. The new edifice has been erected at a cost of $18,000, a large part of which has already been subscribed. Dr. A. H. Spangler is pastor of the congregation.

Rev. and Mrs. J. H. Keller and little son, of China Grove, North Carolina, since last Wednesday, have been guests of Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Fisher, at Penn Hall. For a short time on Monday they visited Rev. Keller's brother, D. K. Keller, in this place. They will remain in this section for several weeks.

A. C. Ripka accompanied his son, E. S. Ripka, to the south-eastern section of the State, a part of the territory the latter covers in the interest of the Hamilton-Brown Shoe Co. The trip was made by auto, last week, and the elder Mr. Ripka reports that wheat in Cumberland county appears fifty per cent. better than in Centre county.

The Reporter was favored with a short call on Monday afternoon from the Rev. John A. Bright, of Topeka, Kansas, who has been in the east for the past few months, during which time he delivered a number of lectures to Odd Fellows throughout the valley. Rev. Bright is a native of Aaronsburg, and while advanced in years retains his youthful vigor.

R. P. Campbell, the genial proprietor of the Penns Cave House, entertained Troop K, of Lock Haven, and Troop M, of Lewisburg, at the hotel on Friday night, while enroute to Boalsburg to engage in the activities which Captain Boal had planned. Mr. Campbell treated the boys—sixty-four of them—to a trip through the famous cave, and it was ten o'clock when the last boat load came out of the cave.

Merrill Mongan, one of Uncle Sam's experienced soldiers, passed through Centre Hall on Monday on his way to Milesburg to visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Mongan, whom he has not seen in two years. The young man served enlistments in the army and navy, and while he has been honorably discharged from both services, he states that "they won't need to come after me", as he is ready to do his duty at the first call. He was making his way home from Key West, Florida, depending on a "lift" here and there to cover the distance.

Guy W. Jacobs and bride of a week arrived in Centre Hall on Saturday afternoon after completing a honeymoon trip starting from Texas. At New Orleans the newlyweds took passage on a steamship and made the trip to New York City on the Atlantic Ocean. The couple remained here until Tuesday afternoon, during which time the bride was introduced to many of her husband's friends. She is a most charming young woman, one whom it is a real pleasure to meet. Mr. and Mrs. Jacobs have begun housekeeping in Steubenville, Ohio.

GYPSIES PAY BACK $114.22

Meet Their Waterloo at Potters Mills After a Series of Robberies in Several Counties.

After stealing $80 worth of money and a number of chickens and quantities of food articles a band of gypsies which has been terrorizing Mifflin and Huntingdon county residents the past few days were surrounded at Potters Mills late Saturday afternoon and the money was recovered by Sheriff T. F. VanZandt, of Mifflin county, and Chief of Police H. D. Yeaman, of Lewistown.

Near Reedsville the gypsies entered the toll-gate house occupied by Mr. and Mrs. John W. Weidensaul and stole $30 from Mrs. Weidensaul and $15 from Mr. Weidenssul and escaped with the booty.

At Potters Mills T. F. Royer was made the victim of the gypsy band to the extent of $25.00, and the last nine cents of a mountain resident above Potters Mills were also taken. Part of the tribe then visited Mrs. William Lucas, and asked to buy a number of chickens. After getting hold of the fowls the gypsies left in haste, forgetting about the payment.

The band consisted of thiry members, all traveling in cars. It was a streak of good fortune that one of the cars was disabled at Potters Mills, for this detained the pirates and made their capture possible by the Mifflin county authorities, with the aid of Constable P. C. Frank and others in Potter township.

The gang was finally rounded up and taken before 'Squire Carson where all claims were fully paid. The total of the Mifflin county claims was $81.00, while $33.22 included the steals on this side of the Seven Mountains.

Upon promise to leave the county immediately the pirates were permitted to pass on.

Young Man Dies of Lockjaw.

Arthur Wingard, nineteen-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Perry Wingard, of near Coburn, died at the home of George B. Stover, near Millheim, last Wednesday afternoon, of lockjaw. The youth, about a week previous, ran a splinter in his leg above the ankle in kicking the wood under a kettle in an outside fireplace, in making ready to do the family washing. While it gave him considerable pain for a day or two the injury seemed to correct itself and in a few days he appeared all right. Tuesday evening preceding his death symptoms of lockjaw manifested themselves and the disease developed so rapidly that by Wednesday morning his entire body was rigid. He passed away in the afternoon.

Besides his parents, he is survived by three brothers and three sisters. Burial was made in the Paradise cemetery, near Coburn, on Sunday morning.

Put Out the Flag.

Today (Thursday) is Flag Day. Every house, buisness place, without regard to importance, should have a flag floating from it. There are a few spots in Centre Hall that flags are conspicuous for their absence. On Registration Day, when young men were asked to take the initiative to put themselves in line for the great army that is to fight for a continuation of the liberties we now enjoy, not a single flag was visible from the outside or inside of the building where the registrar sat to receive the best manhood of the country—a regrettable fact, but a fact it is. Our citizens are loyal, altogether loyal, and today flags should appear in such numbers so that every one "passing this way" will at once see that we are not only loyal but showing it by our deeds.

Picnic Day at State College.

Centre County Field and Outing Day, at State College, Saturday, June 16th, promises to be the real thing in pleasure for both young and old. The college grounds will be used for the various forms of amusements, games, etc., and there will be something doing all day, commencing at 9:30 a. m. Prize ribbons will be awarded to all winners in contests. At noon there will be a big "get together" for the big meal of the day, dinners being furnished by individual families attending the picnic.

There will be bands to furnish music, patriotic speeches by prominent men, and numerous other features to make the day one of thorough enjoyment for all who attend.

Boys and Girls Conference Picture.

Those who attended the older boys' and girls' conference of the county Sunday-school convention, at Centre Hall, will recall that a picture of the conference was taken at the noon hour. The pictures are first-class and will be sent to all who have already ordered and those who order in the future. The picture is twenty-five cents, stamps not accepted. Send all orders to S. W. Smith, Centre Hall.

To Reclaim Human Parasites.

The Government is planning how to reclaim about two million parasites of the ten million men who registered last week. It is estimated that there are about that many men among those who registered that have no visible means of support. They are loafers, and of course, the percentage of disease and physical disability is exceptionally high among them. Nearly all of them will be exempted under the present arrangement. To remedy this the Government is seriously planning reclaimation camps and good authorities calculate that on the average many of them can be be reclaimed by the expenditure of $100 each.

The fact which particularly appeals to the War Department officials is that the 2,000,000 human parasites who will be rejected because of physical shortcomings will be thrown back upon the country to filsh their lives off others, as they have been doing. It is asserted that many of the slackers will contract diseases to avoid being drafted into military service. They have already pointed out how easily that can be done.

Today (Thursday) is Flag Day.

DEATHS.

On Wednesday morning, June 6, a half hour after midnight, Mrs. David W. Miller died at her home in Pine Grove Mills after a year's illness, following a stroke of apoplexy.

Mrs. Miller's death removes one of the oldest and most respected citizens of Centre county. She was the daughter of Samuel and Rebecca Watts Cooper, of the Glades.

Mrs. Miller was born at the old Cooper homestead in the Glades, a few miles west of Pine Grove Mills, February 4, 1839. She was educated at the Pine Grove Academy and at Birmingham Seminary and taught school for several years. She was a life long member of the Presbyterian church and was devoted to its doctrines and to its activities.

Mary Ann Cooper was married Nov. 30, 1871, to David W. Miller, who survives her. The Millers lived in the Glades until 1903, when they moved to the Patten farm, east of Pine Grove Mills, from which place in 1908 they moved to their home in the village.

Besides her husband, two sons survive.

Mrs. Miller was a woman of unusual strength of character whose life was a great asset to the community. For this and for her unfailing sweet smile and lovable disposition she will be missed by a large circle of friends and acquaintances.

The funeral took place from the home in Pine Grove Mills on Saturday morning at 10 o'clock.

Changes in Game Law.

The new game law, as it applies to Pennsylvania, and which was recently signed by the governor, includes a number of changes with which local hunters should become familiar. The wild turkey season has been shortened four weeks and only one turkey may be killed during the entire season.

The kind of game, open season, and the limit of the kill, are as follows:

Wild turkey, 15th of November to 30th of November; one in a season.

Pheasants, 20th of October to 30th of November; four in one day, twenty-four in the season.

Quail, 20th of October to 30th of November; eight in one day, twenty-five in the season.

Wild rabbit, 1st of November to 15th of December; ten in one day, sixty in the season.

Squirrels—grey, black, or fox—20th of October to 30th of November; 6 of the combined kind in one day, or twenty in the season.

Bear, 15th of October to the 15th of December; one in a day or one in the season.

Deer, male with antlers extending not less than two inches above the hair, from 1st of December to the 15th of December; one in the season.

DODGE BROTHERS MOTOR CAR

It does not look as though the market for this car could ever be entirely satisfied.

That sounds like a strange statement, but there is a sound reason for making it.

A shortage has continued, now, for two years and a half, in the face of a large and steady increase in output.

The shortage may not be local, or sectional, or seasonal, but it is national, universal and continuous.

It will pay you to visit us and examine this car.

The gasoline consumption is unusually low.
The tire mileage is unusually high.

Touring Car or Roadster, $835; Winter Touring Car or Roadster, $1000; Sedan or Coupe, $1265

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

TOWN AND COUNTY NEWS.

HAPPENINGS OF LOCAL INTEREST FROM ALL PARTS

James Keller is home from Franklin and Marshall college.

Children's Day service will be observed in the Reformed church Sunday evening.

Marcellus Royer, son of Jacob Royer, of Colyer, is lying ill with typhoid pneumonia.

A beatiful Children's Day program was rendred in the Lutheran church on Sunday evening.

D. L. Geary, of Newport, was the guest of his son, F. P. Geary, and family, for a few days last week.

S. W. Gramley, cashier of the Millheim Banking Company, is the owner of new Overland Country Club roadster.

Mr. and Mrs. Claud K. Stahl, of Altoona, were arrivals in town on Saturday for a few days' visit with the former's parents.

Miss Madaline Spayd, who just completed her sophomore year at The Pennsylvania State College, is spending the vacation season with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Spayd, in this place.

Catharine, the five-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Yarnell, of Colyer, was taken to the Altoona hospital a short time ago for an operation on the throat and nose. The little Miss stood the ordeal very well and has now fully recovered.

A. W. Zettle, who for some time has been employed at Johnstown, spent Sunday at the home of his father, Andrew Zettle, in this place. He reports work in the building line brisk. On Monday Mr. Zettle returned to the Flood City.

Forester William E. Montgomery, of Potters Mills, left a short time ago to fill the vacancy caused by the leaving of Prof. Edwin A. Ziegler as director of the State Forestry Academy at Mont Alto. Mr. Montgomery will be the instrucor in survey during the summer months, at least.

The registrar's blue card put a youth in line to be admittedto the Centre Hall "bar." The youngster had the appearance of being less than twenty-one years old, and was refused to be served with booze. It was only upon presenting the blue card that he was given the stand of full manhood.

The Liberty Bonds are becoming popular in Centre Hall and surrounding district. The Penns Valley Banking Company will take care of your order without a cent of cost to you. Go to the bank prior to the 15th inst. and have them explain just what a Liberty Bonds means as to returns to you.

The Reporter is indebted to Dr. Alfred Beirly, the music composer, of Chicago, for a lot of the most handsome patriotic posters and pictures that it has been our good fortune to lay eyes on. The doctor is an American, through and through, and Centre county is proud to own him as a native son.

Henry Rossman, Tusseyville's funeral director, was a caller at this office last Friday to advance his subscription. Mr. Rossman was compelled to give up his work for several months owing to a highly serious nervous ailment which affected his jaw, but, we are pleased to note, has fully recovered.

The school directors of Rush township, at a meeting held last week, gave each of the school teachers an advance of $10 per month, which means that the $40.00 teachers will get receive $50.00, the $50.00 teachers $60.00, etc. There are twenty-five teachers employed in the township who will be benefited by this action.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Kiefer, and baby daughter, of Youngwood were arrivals at the home of Mrs. Kiefer's parents, 'Squire and Mrs. Cyrus Brungart, the latter part of last week, for a short vacation. Mrs. Kiefer has about fully recovered from a very serious sickness, a fact that her many friends are glad to note.

Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Heckman and the latter's sister, Miss Tacy Kreamer, motored from Johnstown on Saturday, arriving in Centre Hall in the evening. Mr. and Mrs. Heckman continued on to Lamar to visit Mr. Heckman's father, Adam Heckman, while Miss Kreamer remained with her father, H. W. Kreamer. The return trip home was begun on Sunday.

Barber Jerry Miller of DuBois, accompanied by his daughter, Miss Annie, and son, John, were in Centre Hall for a few hours on Thursday of last week, having made the trip here through the kindness of Milton Kern, the Bellefonte barber. The Millers came to this county to attend the funeral of the late Jonathan E. Miller, who died in Bellefonte last week.

Miss Edith Harlacher, daughter of Frank Harlacher, of Stormstown, and Prof. Andrew Melville, of the Extension Division of the University of Wisconsin, will be married next Monday. Miss Harlacher was born in Centre Hall and spent her early school days here. For a number of years she was secretary to Dean L.E. Reber, formerly of Penn State, now of the University of Wisconsin. Mr. and Mrs. Melville will live at Madison, Wisconsin.

The first snake story of the season, locally, has been recited and it is an unique one. Superintendent of road repair, I. A. Sweetwood, and force of men, were working in the vicinity of the "gravel hole", above town, when their attention was attracted to the bushes by the side of the road where two thrushes were engaged in giving off discordant notes in such a degree as to cause the men to investigate. Approaching the birds to within a few feet they soon discovered the trouble. A three-foot spotted snake was worming its way through the bushes, but its progress was being greatly impeded through the action of the two birds, which, located midway on its body, were alternately giving his snakeship a dab with their sharp bills and emitting a war whoop. Seeing that the odds were too great against the birds the men took a hand in the encounter and dispatched the snake with stones, while the two thrushes voiced a victory cry from a nearby tree.

Utilization Committee.

At a recent meeting held at Centre Hall for the purpose or organizing for public safety, the only committee not selected at the time was one of great importane to carry out the purpose of the entire public safety scheme. The committee referred to is that of utilization. The personnel is Miss Florence Rhone, Mrs. Samuel Durst, Mrs. Jacob Sharer. Later meeting will be held at which talks and demonstrations will be given on conserving vegetables and fruits.

Will Draw Names in a Week.

The men who registered last Tuesday will probably know before the end of June whether they will be conscripted. The first drawings will begin in a week if present plans are carried out. Exemptions will then be made coincidently with the drawings.

Physical examinations will be made of men whose names are taken in the first drawing. This it is expected will eliminate nearly half the men drawn. President Wilson is expected soon to issue regulations governing the operation of exemption boards.

New Apple-Package Law.

The Pennsylvania legislature has passed and the Governor has approved a law which is intended to prevent fraud in the sale of apples in closed packages. The act was framed by the progressive fruit growers of the state and indorsed by their organization. While this law does not attempt so much as some other state laws, it will prove to be more effective and therefore more useful for that very reason. It provides simply that the minimum size of the apples in the packages shall be stated in the mark or brand thereon, and imposes suitable penalties for false marking or branding.

REBERSBURG

James Corman, who took suddenly ill on last Wednesday, is again about.

Wm. Frieze, of Pittsburg, spent a few days with his sister, Mrs. Fred Fehl.

Jonathan Royer, Nittany Valley, is at present visiting his brother, Daniel, at this place.

Mrs. Albert Reed, of Mifflinburg, spent a week at the home of Samuel Mowery.

Samuel Shaffer and wife were to Zion on Monday to attend the funeral of Mr. Shaffer's brother's wife, who died suddenly last Friday.

Calvin Weaver and wife were called to Vicksburg last Sunday to attend the funeral of Mr. Weaver's step mother.

Henry Stitzer, the past week, had men employed tearing down the buildings on the old Stitzer home located along the mountain, two miles east of this place. Mr. Stitzer will use the lumber to build a piece to his barn.

Cyrus Ziegler, an aged retired farmer residing at Wolfs Store, while assisting at sawing stove wood with a gasoline outfit got his left arm too close to the revolving saw and the result was a deep gash was cut in his arm from the elbow to near the wrist. His attending physician was compelled to take some of the crushed bones out of his arm. He is getting along nicely at this writing. A strange feature of the accident is that Mr. Ziegler has not had any pain in his arm since the accident happened.

PENN HALL

Charles Bartges and family spent Sunday at the home of George Shook.

Ralph Shook and family spent Sunday evening at the home of Scott Decker.

Charles Musser, from Middleburg, is visiting his aunt, Lucy Musser, and other friends around here.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Mark spent last week at the home of Harry Weaver, at Middleburg.

John Keller and family, from North Carolina, are visiting Mr. Keller's sister, Mrs. Frank Fisher.

William Keller, from Centre Hall, visited his sister, Mrs. Frank Fisher, over Sunday.

Mrs. Ephriam Shook is visiting her sister, Mrs. Irvin Weaver, near Lock Haven.

Earl Bartges left for Ridgeway on Monday morning, and Elwin Musser went along to get employment at that place.

Georges Valley

Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Confer spent Sunday afternoon with their daughter, Mrs. Stover, at Tusseyville.

Mrs. Sara Reeder spent Sunday at the home of F. M. Ackerman.

Mrs. Orris Pecht and three daughters, of Milroy, spent last week at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Bartges.

J. C. Reeder and family, F. W. Zettle and family spent Sunday in Boalsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Bailey spent Sunday at the home of the former's mother, Mrs. Amanda Bailey.

Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Decker, of Spring Mills, visited at the home of D. D. Decker, on Sunday.

W. F. Bierly, of Rebersburg, last Friday took over the mail route between that place and Coburn from Clayton Winters who desired to quit the job. On the 2nd of July Harry Confer will start on a four-year contract, says the Millheim Journal.

Heavy Bills for Forest Fire Fighting.

Judging from bills of forest fire extinction submitted to date, there will be deficiency to June 1st, 1917, of almost $15,000 in the forest fire fund of the Department of Foresty. Legislature two years ago appropriated only $45,000 for forest fire prevention and extinction, and it was predicted then that even if the whole sum should be used for extinction and no preventive measures undertaken, a deficiency appropriation would be necessary to meet fire bills. This is practically what has happened, for scarcely any of the money has been used for preventing fires.

There has been an exceptionally large crop of small forest fires this spring, which has helped to swell the total of the bills. Heavier expenses for extinction have been incurred since April first of this year than during all of last year. Last week's rains, however, have ended the season of exceptional danger in most parts of the State, and almost all of the foresters except those in the north tier report that it is not likely that there will be more fires before fall. Weather records show that this has been the driest spring in years, and during one week of May a high wind blew almost continuously. More fires occurred during this one week than during the rest of the fire season.

Here we are in the middle of June with haymaking close at hand.

All that tract or piece of land lying and being in the township of Potter, and County of Centre aforesaid, bounded and described as follows: Beginning at post adjoining lands late of George Odenkirk, thence south thirty-five and one-half degrees east, two hundred and ninety-three and eight-tenth perches to post; thence by land of John Runkle, south twenty-seven degrees west, twelve perches to middle of turnpike; thence by the said turnpike, south sixty-two degrees east, eight-tenths of a perch; thence south forty-five and one-half degrees west; eight perches to post by old road; thence north eighty-one degrees west, nine and eight-tenths perches to stone by new church lot; thence south fifty-six degrees west, sixteen and five-tenths perches to stone; thence south sixty and one-half degrees west, fourteen and six-tenths perches to stone by Samuel Swartz lot; thence thirty-eight and one-fourth degrees west, one hundred and fifty-eight perches to post by Burkholder and Strohm; thence north fifty-eight and one-half degrees east sixteen and one-half perches to the middle of the turnpike; thence along middle of the turnpike north fifty-three degrees west, twenty perches; thence north forty-nine and one-fourth degrees west, one hundred and twenty-four perches to post; thence north fifty-eight and three-fourth degrees east, eighty-four and two-tenths perches to the place of beginning, containing ONE HUNDRED AND TWELVE ACRES, ELEVEN PERCHES, and allowance; except about one-fourth acre sold to R. M. Smith, May 1, 1907, as shown in deed recorded May 20, 1907, and used by him for private road.

Also a certain tract of land containing about one acre adjoining and lying to the south of the main farm, said tract having formerly erected on it a Presbyterian church.

Also about one half acre of land lying on the northwest side of the main farm on the portion on west side of pike, the same having been purchased from R. M. Smith, May 1st, 1907, and recorded May 20, 1907.

The three tracts to be sold as a whole.

TERMS—Ten per cent. of purchase money to be paid on day of sale; one half of remainder on delivery of deed, and balance in one year, secured by bond and mortgage.

ROBERT M. SMITH,
Executor of Eliza Smith.

Hell Made in Germany, says "Billy."

If you turned hell upside down you would find 'made in Germany' stamped on the bottom", shouted Billy Sunday as he announced to his audience of 18,000 his subscription of $25,000 to the Liberty Loan.

"I'll never buy anything made in Germany again," Billy added. "I'm through with that. Germany is watching the loan as she never watchen anything before."

Ed. Norris and Frank Williams, two State College men, were arrested in connection with an attempted robbery of Montgomery's clothing store at that place, but upon being taken before a justice for a hearing, last Wednesday, were dismissed through lack of sufficient evidence.

A flag has been placed on the wireless tower at State College and the rays from a search light play upon it at night, making a glorious sight.

Coal That's All Coal Hourly-Tested Cement

We handle the choicest grades and you can count on our deliveries. Our coal comes from mines that have high reputations for careful grading, and our cement comes from the pioneer manufacturer whose product for a quarter of a century has represented the high-water mark of quality. It is and ALPHA Cement is tested by chemists every hour, day and night, throughout the process of manufacture. They make sure that the raw materials are of the proper grade, and mixed, burned and ground exactly right. The result is that ALPHA is always high in binding power.

We warrant every bag of ALPHA Cement invariably to meet standard specifications for fineness, tensile strength and binding-power. It makes concrete that grows harder and stronger with age. The people who buy ALPHA Cement once always come back for more.

Try our coal or cement the next time you order. If you are planning to build or make repairs, come in and get our valuable 80-page book, "ALPHA Cement —How to Use It." It tells how to mix concrete and how to make dozens of everlasting improvements on the farm or around the home.

WEDNESDAY

RIGHT in the midst of everything—a sudden thought: "Wonder how the fire is?" Then, it's leave your sweeping, run downstairs, rake and shake, shovel coal and trudge back again. Wouldn't it be fine to go right ahead and forget about the kitchen? It certainly would! And you can.

NEW PERFECTION OIL COOK-STOVES

have brought a new kind of sweeping day—a new kind of every day to thousands of busy housewives.

A Perfection Oil Cook Stove will come into your kitchen and lighten your burdens. All you do is strike a match and "put on the things."

You can regulate the heat exactly as you want it. It stays that way without watching. You'll be specially interested in the fireless cooker and the separate oven. Look up the dealer near you who sells Perfection Oil Cook Stoves.

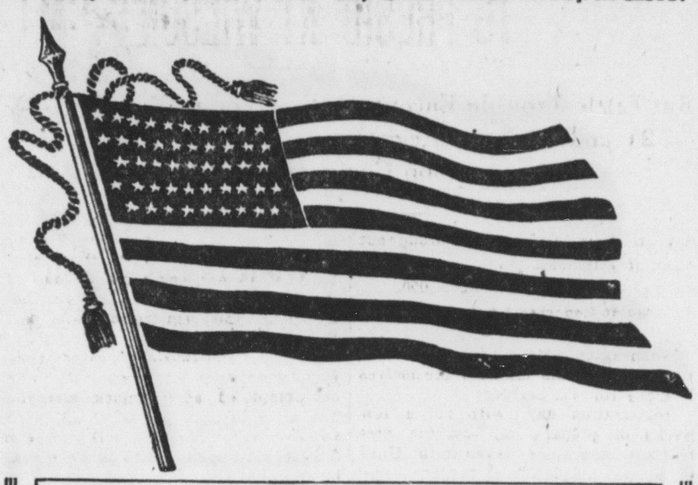
THE ATLANTIC REFINING COMPANY
Philadelphia and Pittsburgh

Another important thing is that Perfection Oil Cook Stoves burn the most economical of fuels—kerosene. There's a difference in kerosenes—not a price, but a quality. To be sure of getting perfect results, ask for Rayolight Oil. It's so highly refined and scientifically purified that it always gives an even, intense heat without sputter, smoke or smell. Look for the sign:

Old Glory Has Waved Over Us For One Hundred And Forty Years. It Is The Sentiment Uniting Us As A Nation That Makes It More To Us Than A Beautiful Piece of Cloth. It Means: "Liberty And Union, Now And Forever, One And Inseparable."



The Flag

By FRANKLIN K. LANE
Secretary of the Interior

ONE morning, as I passed into the land office, the Flag dropped me a most cordial salutation, and from its rippling folds I heard it say: "Good morning, Mr. Flag Maker."

"I beg your pardon, Old Glory," I said. "You are mistaken. I am not the President of the United States, nor the Vice President, not a member of Congress, nor a general in the army. I am only a government clerk."

"Well, you helped to clear that patent for the hopeful inventor in New York, or pushed the opening of that new ditch in Colorado, or made that mine in Illinois more safe, or brought relief to the old soldier in Wyoming. No matter whichever one of these beneficent individuals you may happen to be, I give you greeting, Mr. Flag Maker.

"Yesterday the Congress spoke the word which will open the door of Alaska, but a mother in Michigan worked from sunrise until far into the night to give her boy an education. She, too, is making the Flag. Yesterday we made a new law to prevent financial panics; yesterday, no doubt, a school-teacher in Ohio taught his first letters to a boy who will write a song that will give cheer to millions of our race. We are all making the Flag."

"But," I said, impatiently, "these people were only working."

Then came a great shout about the Flag.

"Let me tell you who I am.

"The work that we do is the making of the real Flag.

"I am not the Flag, not at all. I am but its shadow.

"I am whatever you make me, nothing more.

"I am your belief in yourself, your dream of what a people may become.

"I live a changing life, a life of moods and passions, of heartbreaks and tired muscles.

□ □ □ □

"Sometimes I am strong with pride, when men do an honest work, fitting the rails together truly.

"Sometimes I droop, and then purpose has gone from me and then cynically I play the coward.

"Sometimes I am loud, garish and full of that ego that blasts judgment.

"But always I am all that you hope to be and have the courage to try for.

"I am song and fear, struggle and panic, an ennobling hope.

"I am the day's work of the weakest man and the largest dream of the most daring.

"I am the Constitution and the courts, statutes and statute makers, soldier and dreadnaught, drayman and street-sweep, cook, counselor and clerk.

"I am the battle of yesterday and the mistake of tomorrow.

"I am the mystery of the men who do without knowing why.

"I am the clutch of an idea and the reasoned purpose of resolution.

□ □ □ □

"I am no more than what you believe me to be, and I am all that you believe I can be.

"I am what you make me, nothing more.

"I swing before your eyes as a bright dream of color, a symbol of yourself, a pictured suggestion of that big thing which makes this nation. My stars and my stripes are your dreams and your labors. They are bright with cheer, brilliant with courage, firm with faith because you have made them so out of your hearts, for you are the makers of the Flag, and it is well that you glory in the making."

CUSTOMS IN ARMY AND NAVY

Explicit Regulations Govern the Display of the Stars and Stripes on Land and Sea.

Concerning "Flag Day" the following from the Army and Navy Journal may be of interest:

A correspondent asks as to the origin of the custom of hoisting the flag on board ship and at our army posts at sunrise and hauling it down at sunset. Some of our readers may be able to add to the information we give here. The army hoists its flag at sunrise and hauls it down at sunset. The navy raises the flag at eight in the morning and hauls it down at sunset. The flag is not flown at sea except for the purpose of exchanging courtesies with other vessels, but a vessel making port keeps the flag flying until she comes to anchor, whatever the hour may be. The flag is hoisted on board ship during church service, with the church pennant flying above it. The hoisting of a flag below another flag is the token of surrender.

The regulations require that: "At every military post or station the flag will be hoisted at the sounding of the first note of the reveille, or of the first note of a march, if a march be played before reveille. The flag will be lowered at the sounding of the last note of the retreat, and while the flag is being lowered the band will play 'The Star-Spangled Banner.' The national flag shall be displayed at a seacoast or lake fort at the commencement of an action and during a battle in which the fort may be engaged, whether by day or at night.

"The national ensign on board a ship of the navy at anchor shall be hoisted at 8 a. m. and kept flying until sunset, if the weather permits. Whenever a ship comes to anchor or gets underway, if there is sufficient light for the ensign to be seen, it shall be hoisted, although earlier or later than the time specified. Unless there are good reasons to the contrary, the ensign shall be displayed when falling in with other ships of war, or when near the land, and especially when passing or approaching forts, lighthouses or towns."

OUR FLAG

By ROBERT C. WINTHROP.

Behold it!
Listen to it!
Every star has a tongue, every stripe is articulate.
"There is no language or speech where their voices are not heard."
There is magic in the web of it.
It has an answer for every question of duty.
It has a solution for every doubt and perplexity.
It has a word of good cheer for every hour of gloom or of despondency.
It speaks of earlier and of later struggles.
It speaks of victories, and sometimes of reverses, on the sea and on the land.
It speaks of patriots and heroes among the living and the dead.
But before all and above all other associations and memories, whether of glorious men, or glorious deeds, or glorious places, its voice is ever of Union and Liberty, of the Constitution and the Laws.

Colors Have Significance.

The very colors (of our flag) have a language which was officially recognized by our fathers. White is for purity, red for valor, blue for justice; and all together—stripes, stars and colors, blazing in the sky—make the flag of our country, to be cherished by all our hearts, to be upheld by all our hands.—Charles Sumner.

During the year ended June 30, 1916, the Auckland, New Zealand, trams carried 43,352,000 passengers, from whom $1,337,231 was collected in fares. At Christchurch 17,831,644 passengers were carried, and $682,230 was collected in fares.

The total number of troops in the different United States wars follows: Revolutionary, 309,791 troops; War of 1812, 605,046 troops; Mexican War, 101,282 troops; Civil War, 2,859,132 troops; Spanish War, 274,717 troops; Philippine insurrection, 126,468 troops.

The iris is supposed to be the fleur-de-lis, or flower-de-luce of the French coat of arms, but really has nothing to do with the design, this being of recent application. The origin of the design is not known, but it is generally believed to represent the head of a spear; by others the flower of a lily, the floral emblem of France.

The French Senate has just adopted the bill, previously voted by the Chambre des Deputes, granting a credit of 1,500,000 francs to the French Navigation Bureau to permit the construction of tugs, barges, etc., for traffic upon the lower Seine. It is said to be unlikely, however, that the new boats would be available before the end of the war.

AFTER SAVING THE LIFE OF DAINTY CORONA BALDWIN, SMITH TAKES IT UPON HIMSELF TO SAVE THE COMPANY'S PROPERTY AT THE RISK OF HIS LIFE

Synopsis.—J. Montague Smith, cashier of the Lawrenceville Bank and Trust company, bachelor society leader, engaged to marry Verda Richlander, heiress, is wrongfully accused of dishonesty by Watrous Dunham, his employer, and urged to be the scapegoat for his guilty accuser. Smith strikes Dunham, leaves him for dead and flees the state. He turns up as a tramp sometime later at an irrigation dam construction camp in the Rockies and as John Smith gets a rough job. He soon attracts the attention of his boss by his evidence of superior intelligence; and because the company is in financial straits, is asked to join the office staff and become a sort of financial adviser. About this time Smith saves the life of Miss Corona Baldwin, daughter of Col. Dexter Baldwin, president of the company.

—5—

"I was born here in Timanyoni, and you haven't been here three weeks: do you think I'd be afraid to go anywhere that you'll go?"

"We'll see about that," he chuckled, matching the laugh; and with that he let the clutch take hold, sent the car rolling gently up to the level of the railroad embankment and across the rails of the main track, and pulled it around until it was headed fairly for the upper switch. Then he put the motor in the reverse and began to back the car on the siding, steering so that the wheels on one side hugged the inside of one rail.

"What in the world are you trying to do?" questioned the young woman who had said she was not afraid.

"Wait," he temporized; "just wait a minute and get ready to hang on like grim death. We're going across on that trestle."

He fully expected her to shriek and grab for the steering wheel. That, he told himself, was what the normal young woman would do. But Miss Corona disappointed him.

"You'll put us both into the river, and smash Colonel-daddy's car, but I guess the Baldwin family can stand it if you can," she remarked quite calmly.

Smith kept on backing until the car had passed the switch from which the spur branched off to cross to the material yard on the opposite side of the river. A skillful bit of juggling put the roadster over on the ties of the spur-track. Then he turned to his fellow risk.

"Sit low and hang on with both hands," he directed. "Now!" and he opened the throttle.

The trestle was not much above two hundred feet long, and, happily, the cross-ties were closely spaced. Steered to a hair, the big car went bumping across, and in his innermost recesses Smith was saying to his immediate ancestor, the well-behaved bank clerk: "You swab! You never saw the day when you could do a thing like this . . . you thought you had me tied up in a bunch of ribbon, didn't you?"

If Miss Baldwin were frightened, she did not show it. Smith jerked the roadster out of the entanglement of the railroad track and said: "You may sit up now and tell me which way to go. I don't know anything about the roads over here."

She pointed out the way across the hills, and a four-mile dash followed. Up hill and down the big roadster raced, devouring the interspaces, and at the topping of the last of the ridges, in a small, low-lying swale which was well hidden from any point of view in the vicinity of the distant dam, they came upon the interlopers. There were three men and two horses and a covered wagon, as Martin's telephone message had catalogued them. The horses were still in the traces, and just beyond the wagon a legal mining claim had been marked out by freshly driven stakes. At one end two of the men were digging perfunctorily, while the third was tacking the legal notice on a bit of board nailed to one of the stakes.

Smith sent the gray car rocketing down into the swale, brought it to a stand with a thrust of the brakes, and jumped out. Once more the primitive Stone Age man in him, which had slept so long and so quietly under the Lawrenceville conventionalities, was joyously pitching the barriers aside.

"It's moving day for you fellows," he announced cheerfully, picking the biggest of the three as the proper subject for the order giving. "You're on the Timanyoni Ditch company's land, and you know it. Pile into the wagon and fade away!"

The big man's answer was a laugh, pointed, doubtless, by the fact that the order giver was palpably unarmed. Smith's right arm shot out, and when the blow landed there were only two left to close in on him. In such sudden hostilities the advantages are all with the beginner. Having superior reach and a good bit more skill than either of the two tacklers, Smith held his own until he could get in a few more of the smashing right-handers, but in planting them he took punishment enough to make him Berserk-mad and so practically invincible. There was a fierce mingling of arms, legs and bodies, sufficiently terrifying, one would suppose, to a young woman sitting calmly in an automobile a hundred yards away.

The struggle was short in just proportion to its vigor, and at the end of it two of the trespassers were knocked out, and Smith was dragging the third over to the wagon, into which he presently heaved the man as if he had been a sack of meal. Miss Baldwin, sitting in the car, saw her ally dive into the covered wagon and come out with a pair of rifles. Pausing only long enough to smash the guns, one after the other, over the wagon wheel, he started back after the two other men. They were not waiting to be carried to the wagon; they were up and running in a wide semicircle to reach their hope of retreat unslain, if that might be. It was all very brutal and barbarous, no doubt, but the colonel's daughter was Western born and bred, and she clapped her hands and laughed in sheer enthusiasm when she saw Smith make a show of chasing the circling runners.

He did not return to her until after he had pulled up the freshly driven stakes and thrown them away, and by that time the wagon, with the horses lashed to a keen gallop, was disappearing over the crest of the northern ridge.

"That's one way to get rid of them, isn't it?" said the emancipated bank man, jocosely, upon taking his place in the car to cramp it for the turn. "Was that something like the notion you had in mind?"

"Mercy, no!" she rejoined. And then: "Are you sure you are not hurt?"

"Not worth mentioning," he evaded. "Those duffers couldn't hurt anybody, so long as they couldn't get to their guns."

"But you have saved the company at your own expense. They will be sure to have you arrested."

"We won't cross that bridge until we come to it," he returned. "If we were back in the country from which I have lately escaped, it would be proper for me to ask your permission to drive you safely home. Since we are not, I shall assume the permission and do it anyway."

"Oh, is that necessary?" she asked, meaning, as he took it, nothing more than comradely deprecation at putting him to the trouble of it.

"Not absolutely necessary, perhaps, but decently prudent. You might drop me opposite the dam, but you'd have to pass those fellows somewhere on the way, and they might try to make it unpleasant for you."

She made no further comment, and he sent the car spinning along over the hills to the westward. A mile short of the trestle river crossing they overtook and passed the wagon. Because he had the colonel's daughter with him, Smith put on a burst of speed and so gave the claim jumpers no chance to provoke another battle.

The Struggle Was Short.

In the maze of crossroads opposite the little city on the south bank of the river, Smith was out of his reckoning, and was obliged to ask his companion to direct him.

"I thought you weren't ever going to say anything any more," she sighed, in mock despair. "Take this road to the right."

"I can't talk and drive a speed wagon at the same time," he told her, twisting the gray car into the road she had indicated, and he made the assertion good by covering the four remaining miles in the same preoccupied fashion.

There was a reason, of a sort, for his silence; two of them, to be exact. For one, he was troubled by that haunting sense of familiarity which was still trying to tell him that this was not his first meeting with Colonel Baldwin's daughter; and the other, much bigger and more depressing, was the realization that in breaking with his past, he had broken also with the world of women, at least to the extent of ever asking one of them to marry him.

He pushed the thought aside, coming back to the other one—the puzzle of familiarity—when Miss Baldwin pointed to a transplanted Missouri farm mansion, with a columned portico, standing in a grove of cottonwoods on the left-hand side of the road, telling him it was Hillcrest.

There was a massive stone portal fronting the road, and when he got down to open the gates the young woman took the wheel and drove through; whereupon he decided that it was time for him to break away, and said so.

"But how will you get back to the camp?" she asked.

"I have my two legs yet, and the walking isn't bad."

"No; but you might meet those two men again."

"That is the least of my troubles."

Miss Corona Baldwin, like the Missouri colonel, her father, came upon moments now and then when she had the ultimate courage of her impulses.

"I should have said you hadn't a trouble in the world," she asserted, meeting his gaze level-eyed.

The polite paraphrases of the coffined period were slipping to the end of his tongue, but he set his teeth upon them and said, instead: "That's all you know about it. What if I should tell you that you've been driving this morning with an escaped convict?"

"I shouldn't believe it," she said calmly.

"Well, you haven't—not quite," he returned, adding the qualifying phrase in sheer honesty.

She had untied her veil and was asking him hospitably if he wouldn't come in and meet her mother. Something in the way she said it, some little twist of the lips or look of the eyes, touched the spring of complete recognition, and the familiarity puzzle vanished instantly.

"You forget that I am a workingman," he smiled. "My gang in the quarry will think I've found a bottle somewhere." And then: "Did you ever lose a glove, Miss Baldwin—a white kid with a little hole in one finger?"

"Dozens of them," she admitted; "and most of them had holes, I'm afraid. But what has that to do with your coming in and meeting mamma and letting her thank you for saving my life?"

"Nothing at all, of course," he hastened to say; and with that he bade her good-by rather abruptly, and turned his back upon the transplanted Missouri mansion, muttering to himself as he closed the portal gates behind him: "'Baldwin,' of course! What an ass I was not to remember the name! And now I've got the other half of it, too; it's 'Corona.'"

CHAPTER VII.

Timanyoni Ditch.

Smith had his vote of thanks from Colonel Dexter Baldwin in Williams' sheet-iron office at the dam, the colonel having driven out to the camp for the express purpose; and the chief of construction himself was not present.

"You've loaded us up with a tolerably heavy obligation, Smith—Corry's mother and me," was the way the colonel summed up. "If you hadn't been on deck and strictly on the job at that railroad crossing yesterday morning—"

"Don't mention it, colonel," Smith broke in. "I did nothing more than any man would have done for any woman. You know it, and I know it. Let's leave it that way and forget it."

The tall Missourian's laugh was entirely approbative.

"I like that," he said. "It's a good, man-fashioned way of looking at it. You know how I feel about it—how any father would feel; and that's enough."

"Plenty," was the brief rejoinder.

"But there's another chapter to it that neither of us can cross out; you'll have to come out to the ranch and let Corry's mother have a hack at you," Baldwin went on. "I couldn't figure you out of that if I should try. And now about those claim jumpers: I suppose you didn't know any of them by name?"

"No."

"Corry says you gave them the time of their lives. By George, I wish I'd been there to see!" and the colonel slapped his leg and laughed. "Did they look like the real thing—sure-enough prospectors?"

"They looked like a bunch of hired assassins," said Smith, with a grin. "It's some more of the interference, isn't it?"

The colonel's square jaw settled into the fighting angle.

"How much do you know about this business mix-up of ours, Smith?" he asked.

"All that Williams could tell me in a little heart-to-heart talk we had the other day."

"You agreed with him that there was a tolerably big nigger in the woodpile, didn't you?"

"I had already gathered that much from the camp gossip."

"Well, it's so. We're just about as helpless as a bunch of cattle in a sinkhole," was the ranchman president's confirmation of the camp guesses. "What in the name of the great horn spoon can we do—more than we have done?"

"There are a number of things that might be done," said Smith, falling back reflectively upon the presumably dead and buried bank-cashier part of him. "And if you can manage to stay in the game and play it out, there is big money in it for all of you; enough to make it well worth while for you to put up the fight of your lives."

"They Looked Like a Bunch of Hired Assassins."

"Big money?—you mean in saving our investment?"

"Oh, no; not at all; in cinching the other fellows," Smith put in genially.

Colonel Dexter Baldwin lifted his soft hat and ran his fingers through his grizzled hair.

"Say, Smith; you mustn't forget that I'm from Missouri," he said half quizzically.

"But I shouldn't think you'd need to be 'shown' in this particular instance," was the smiling rejoinder. "The chance to sell you people water from your own dam isn't the only thing or the main thing in this case. They are obliged to have this dam site, or, at least, one as high up the river as this, in order to get the water over to their newly alienated grant in the western half of the park."

"You've got it straight," said the colonel.

"Very good. Then they're simply obliged to have your dam, or— Don't you see the alternative now, colonel?"

"Heavens to Betsy!" exclaimed the breeder of fine horses, bringing his fist down upon Williams' desk with a crash that made the ink bottles dance. And then: "What a lot of fence-posts we are—the whole kit and b'lin' of us! If they get the dam, they sell water to us; if they don't get it, we sell it to them!"

"That's it, exactly," Smith put in quietly. "And I should say that your stake in the game is worth the stiffest fight you can make to save it. Don't you agree with me?"

"Great Jehu! I should say so!" ejaculated the amateur trust fighter. Then he broke down the barriers masterfully. "That settles it, Smith. You can't wiggle out of it now, no way or shape. You've got to come over into Macedonia and help us. Williams tells me you refused him, but you can't refuse me."

Do you believe that Smith would be wise in taking an important position with the ditch company—especially if he really hopes to escape prison as a result of the Lawrenceville affair? Wouldn't he be wiser if he disappeared from the new job?

Resistance of the Wind.

Tests on a model of the naval collier Neptune made in the wind tunnel of the Washington navy yard by Naval Constructor William McEntee show that if this vessel were steaming against a 30-mile wind at 14 knots an hour it would require about 770 horsepower to overcome the resistance of the wind. This is about 20 per cent of the power necessary to propel her through the water.

OVER TEN MILLION RESPOND TO PRESIDENT WILSON'S CALL

But Little Trouble Encountered as Young Men Between 21 and 30 Years Register—Organized Opposition to Conscription Conspicuously Absent.

Reports From Governors Throughout Country Indicate That Enrollment Is In Excess Of 10,000,000. Quiet Reported Everywhere.

Washington.—More than 10,000,000 young Americans enrolled themselves Tuesday for war service.

Registration day, with but a few weeks of preparation, saw the first military census ever taken in the United States completed without a single untoward event of consequence.

The manhood of the nation obeyed the President's call and volunteered en mass, setting at naught all the schemes and plotting of German sympathizers and the few cranks who have agitated against registration. It remains but to select the men who are to go to the front.

From virtually every state reassuring messages came to Brigadier-General Crowder, Provost Marshal-General, Federal supervising officer of the great enterprise.

In some precincts the late comers forced officials to keep the polls open until long after the 9 P. M. closing hour set in the regulations. General Crowder authorized them to keep open as long as men wished to enroll themselves. The result will be further to delay the transmission of returns, however.

The early reports, showing a full turnout all over the country, indicated that the estimates of the Census Bureau as to the number of men within the specified age limits would be verified by the count. Wherever partial figures were authoritative the estimates checked closely.

A typical message received was that from Idaho: "Registration will be 100 per cent," it said. "Spontaneous and without murmur or incident."

The situation was so clear and the response so ready throughout the country that Governors of 46 of the 48 states had sent similar assurances long before registration had closed, and the other two were close on their heels.

A feature of the registration was the refusal of hundreds of thousands of men to make any reply to the question, "Do you claim exemption?" Even men who reported that they had dependent families; men with obvious physical disabilities and those whose occupations are certain to keep them at home declined to make such a claim. Apparently they have entered fully into the very spirit of the law. They are content to leave the question of exemption to the exemption boards. They have no claims to make, but are ready to do their share, whatever it may be.

Many Yet To Register.

There remain several supplementary steps to be taken. Tuesday's registration included only continental United States. Alaska and Hawaii will record their fighting men on dates to be set later, and the roll of Americans now abroad, who are beseiging consulates all around the world for registration cards, will add to the great list. The State Department was called upon for additional cards by the thousand.

Few eleventh-hour rulings were found necessary. The system devised by General Crowder of invoking the political machinery of the nation in the task worked with a smoothness that spoke of perfect co-operation by state, county and municipal officials.

Free Yet To Enlist.

General Crowder made it clear, however, that registration acted as a bar against no man who wished to enlist in the army, navy or marine corps. Any man who enrolled himself Tuesday, but whose patriotic impulse bids him step into the ranks now and not await selection day, will pass from the registration lists automatically. A man may take his choice as to the part of the great national army in which he will serve—regulars, National Guard or selective army.

Many cards mailed by men absent from their home precincts failed to show the present address of the individual.

Four Arrests Reported.

Only four arrests were officially reportedt o the Department of Justice—at Hamilton, Ohio; Hartford, Conn.; Richmond, Va., and at a small place near St. Louis.

Quieter Than Election.

Official reports showed that the registration passed without even such exciting disturbances as mark a general political election. Reports were slow in coming into the Department of Justice, which was gratifying to officials because it indicated lack of trouble, in view of the strict instructions sent everywhere to report trouble instantly to Washington.

Cards Ran Out.

There was some delay in Gary, Ind., and in some Chicago districts because the registration had to be stopped to permit the printing of more cards, registration exceeding all expectations.

In Texas, where the Government's investigation of the anticonscription activities of the Co-operative Buying Association recently led to the indictment of nine men, growing out of threats of armed resistance to conscriptions, the registration was carried out without a hitch.

Cleveland and Detroit reported to the War Department that registration was not completed at 9 o'clock and the Governors of Ohio and Michigan were authorized to order the polls in each city to stay open until all were registered.

In Cleveland a shortage of registration cards developed during the day, and until more could be printed registers were instructed to take the names and addresses of applicants and to canvass them at their homes.

No Hint Of Slacking.

Registration day developments were summarized by the committee on public information in the following statement:

"Nearly 10,000,000 Americans of military age registered for service in the army against Germany. The registration was accomplished in a fashion measuring up to the highest standards of Americanism. The young men came to the registration places enthusiastic; there was no hint of a slacking spirit anywhere, except in a few cases where misguided persons had been prevailed upon to attempt to avoid their national obligation. The Government officials, who had professed the highest confidence in the patriotism of the young men of the nation, were deeply gratified at the result; it transcended their highest expectations.

Conspiracies Fail.

"From every state reports were received showing that the sporadic conspiracies to thwart the first step toward the mobilization of as large an army as the country may need to bring the war to a victorious conclusion had failed utterly. The Department of Justice had a tremendous machinery ready to cope with these conspiracies, but it proved to be unnecessary. Late this afternoon the department had not received a report of a single arrest, and the only arrest officially reported to any governmental body occurred in Virginia, where one man who denounced the Government and the flag was promptly taken into custody. This report came to the office of the provost marshal, General Crowder.

INDIANS RESIST LAW.

Navajoes Drive Registration Officials From Reservation.

Flagstaff, Ariz. — Navajo Indians drove an Indian agent and other Federal officers off the Government Reservation 100 miles northeast of here, when the latter went to register the Indians under the War Army Selective Draft bill, according to advices reaching here. The Federal officers feared the Indians would go on the warpath if further attempts were made to register them, it was reported.

Utes Take To Hills.

Ignacia, Col.—Ute Indians on their reservation near here refused to register under the Selective Draft act and spent most of the day dancing war and "bear" dances in native costume.

MOUNTAINEERS REGISTER.

No Trouble In the Tennessee and Virginia Districts.

Bristol, Tenn.—Twelve hundred and nineteen registered in Bristol Tuesday. A considerable percentage of the men claimed exemption from liability to military service for various reasons. Reports from over Upper Tennessee and Southwest Virginia indicate that there was no opposition whatever to the registration. In the mountain sections, where it was thought that there might be hostilities to the registration, it is reported that all men between the ages registered. Two hundred members of a local fraternal order marched in a body to the polls and registered amidst the cheers of a huge crowd.

CONVICTS TERRORIZE JOLIET.

Fire Buildings and Attempt To Escape Prison.

Joliet, Ill.—After one prisoner had been killed, eight severely injured and several others hurt during three riotous outbreaks at the state prison by a thousand convicts, a rainstorm drove the last 200 of the mutineers to the cellhouse, although they had stubbornly refused to move before the bayonets of national guardsmen who quelled the outbreak. Fires set within the prison buildings destroyed the prison yard buildings, entailing a total loss of $200,000. Several other buildings were damaged by the flames.

The monitor Weehawken was built in Jersey City in 1862, and in January, 1863, was attached to the South Atlantic squadron; she was sunk during the attack on Fort Wagner, in September, 1863.
